

Pioneer DAYS

This beautifully restored Farmall tractor had everything - except gas. The unlucky owner ran out while hooked up to the dynamometer.

Above and Top Right, Dan Dale of Camden is the proud owner of this 1922 Case, 50 h.p. Dale has attended the Pioneer Gas Engine Association Show for each of the 20 years it has been held in Marion. The association has grown to over 200 members across New York State, as well as a handful of members from across the country. The reunion shows originated in Honeoye Falls in 1964 and were later moved to Fairville for several years. The show has been held at the town park in Marion since 1991. To the Right - Rick Finley assists Dale by stoking the coal in the old Case.

Dean Palmer, demonstrates with one of the antique chain saws he deals in.

Mike Nelson, blacksmith, and owner of Nelson Forge in Marion.

Two men discuss a running gas engine on display at the 47th Annual Pioneer Gas Engine Association Show.

Boston Taylor, 4, from Clarksville, Tenn. gives new definition to the term "the long stretch." Boston is the grandson of Cheryl Vanderbrook.

Several hundred tractors of every make and model are always on display - many of them utilized in parades and events.

Bryce Pralick, 4 1/2. Defending champion of the pedal tractor pull.

Beautiful greens and yellows of an antique John Deere

Multi-colored display tractors.